About Monroe College

Since 1933, Monroe College has provided relevant, real-world education to adult students of every background. As a well respected institution of higher learning, Monroe offers a real world learning approach that prioritizes hands-on academic experiences, practical and relevant degree programs, and flexible class schedules. Classes are offered during the day, evening and weekend, as well as online.

Transfer Credits

Students may receive full credit for all courses taken at the Police and Corrections Academies and are eligible for up to 12 credits for life experience. The College also grants credits for advanced training including homicide and sex crimes courses as well as basic, advanced, and command leadership courses. Students may also take CLEP exams to earn additional credit. Military training or credit earned at other institutions may also be awarded.

About the Grant

Monroe's Law Enforcement Grant is available to full or part-time matriculated students who are active, retired, or disabled members of a uniformed police department as well as correction and court officers. The grant provides a 50% reduction of direct costs based on a student's enrollment status and may be used for qualified recipients who enroll either part-time or full-time in an Associate, Bachelor's, or Master's degree program at Monroe College.

Eligibility for Grant

Recipients must meet all of the undergraduate or graduate admissions requirements and be accepted to the College. To retain eligibility, students must maintain good academic standing and continuous enrollment.

Accredited by the commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of colleges and schools, Monroe College offers the following degree programs:
